1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a flat panel display apparatus. More particularly, the present invention relates to a flat panel display apparatus having a distortion correcting device for correcting a distortion of a flat panel display. 2. Description of the Related Art Generally, a flat panel display has a display screen in the shape of a flat panel. Examples of the flat panel display include a liquid crystal display, an organic light emitting diode display, an electrophoretic display, a plasma display panel, and an electrowetting display. Since the flat panel display has a light weight and a low power consumption characteristic, it is currently used in various devices, such as small-sized information devices, in addition to a large-sized display of a computer. The flat panel display uses a digital visual interface (DVI) or a display interface for driving the flat panel display by a computer. Recently, due to the fast speed of computers and an increase in a user's demand of a large-sized computer, a computer, such as an ultra personal computer (PC), is further developed in the flat panel display having a high resolution. However, such a computer can be applied in a case of a flat panel display having a resolution of 640 pixels*480 pixels or a display resolution of 1024 pixels*768 pixels but is not suitable for a flat panel display having a resolution of 1280 pixels*1024 pixels. To achieve a high-resolution flat panel display, the display resolution needs to be increased, but an increase in the resolution results in an increase in pixel count of the flat panel display. For example, as shown in FIG. 1, a flat panel display having a resolution of 1280 pixels*1024 pixels has a pixel count of 2560*2048. Accordingly, a line chart in a flat panel display having the resolution of 1280 pixels*1024 pixels has a curved line. The curved line of the flat panel display is more perceptible at a boundary portion of an image. In order to reduce the distorted image of the flat panel display, the curved line of the flat panel display needs to be corrected.You are here Panax ginseng and prostate cancer Panax ginseng is a Traditional Chinese Medicine that has been extensively studied for its health benefits. Judge Jerri Johnson of Tulsa County on Wednesday ordered that the Oklahoma Eagle Forum be prohibited from trying to visit the house of Devon Erickson or coming within 100 yards of him or his family, reports the Tulsa World. ADVERTISEMENT Erickson, who was born male but now identifies as female, had two topless women manning the front of their house shouting "Your son is a sissy boy!" after the teen came out as a transgender woman in March. The group's spokesperson, Catherine Frazier, attempted to reason with the teenager, saying "No transgender people are homosexual. And no transgender people are transgendered just for the purposes of deceiving or damaging anyone's life or reputation." "I've never had any homosexual feelings, nor have I ever acted upon them," Erickson told Frazier. "I think they are a disgusting, vile, filthy thing." Members of the Oklahoma Eagle Forum have made headlines since last week by suggesting that the teenager would be better off if he were to marry his biological male girlfriend instead. Erickson's family say she is "regretting" her decision to come out as transgender, but think the demonstrations are "horrible." ADVERTISEMENT "We're scared for Devon. And I think she's getting hate mail. We understand that," said Erickson's father, Martin. "That's what she has to deal with." The family is representing themselves because the pair is too afraid of the demonstrations to hire legal counsel. "We have never had this
